

Introducing Bilingualism Matters @ Penn State!

EMBRACING DIVERSITY:

Lessons from second language learning

An open forum about the importance of bilingualism and a discussion about language learning for people of all ages

Monday, January 19, 2015

Martin Luther King Day

Downsbrough Community Room

Schlow Library

3:30-4:30 p.m.

Bilingualism Matters @ Penn State is a new initiative from the Center for Language Science (<http://cls.psu.edu>). In December, 2014, the Center for Language Science became the first US chapter of Bilingualism Matters, an international organization that interfaces current research on bilingualism and second language learning with local community members and schools:

<http://news.psu.edu/story/337322/2014/12/05/academics/center-language-science-joins-global-outreach-center-bilingualism>

You are invited to join us for an hour of discussion so that we can learn more about your interests and concerns as we develop our program of outreach to the larger State College community. Everyone is welcome.

For additional information contact Judith Kroll (jfk7@psu.edu) or Sharon Elder (sle9@psu.edu)

This publication is available in alternative media on request. Penn State encourages qualified persons with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities. If you anticipate needing any type of accommodation or having questions about the physical access provided, please consult Judith Kroll at jfk7@psu.edu in advance of your participation or visit. Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity, and the diversity of its workforce. U.Ed. LBA 15-170